      - 3. Development of the Reservoir, a Cooperative Housing Project, 1987

The Reservoir, a cooperative, which provides affordable housing in the Old Market Place Neighborhood was built in 1987. James A. Graaskamp was an advisor to Susan Hobart, the director of Madison Mutual Housing Association which was the developer of the project. The sign which was placed on the old buildings at the beginning of the project gives special thanks to many people who supported this project; among the many names is that of Professor James Graaskamp.
